WHO WE ARE

NZNO (New Zealand Nurses Organisation/Tōpūtanga Tapuhi Kaitiaki o Aotearoa) has a history going back to 1905 when nurses in Wellington formed the Wellington Private Nurses Association. The Wellington nurses sparked the creation of other nursing associations throughout the motu/country, and the Trained Nurses' Association began in 1909. Over the years, the growth and influence of the Trained Nurses' Association continued, and in 1993, the Trained Nurses' Association amalgamated with the Nurses Union to establish NZNO.

From those humble beginnings, NZNO now has over 55,000 members and is the leading professional body for nurses in Aotearoa New Zealand. Members include nurses, midwives, students, kaimahi hauora, health care workers and allied health professionals.

The Women's Health College began 20 years ago in 2003 and was known as the Women's Health Section at our inception. In 2017, we became the Women's Health College. We strive to be a driving force to ensure all women in Aotearoa/New Zealand receive optimum healthcare through advocacy, educational support for members, policy submission, and collaboration with other organisations to create positive change for women's health.

Our membership consists of NZNO members who are committed to the improvement of women's health. Our members are predominately women who work in diverse settings across Aotearoa New Zealand.

MTANZ Code of Ethics

All exhibitors must adhere to the guidelines of the MTANZ Industry Code of Ethics 2021 (and amendments). A copy of the Code of Ethics can be viewed here.

Ethical standards and compliance with applicable laws are critical to the medical technology industry's ability to continue its successful collaboration with healthcare professionals.

A close relationship between suppliers and the clinician is a key element in the innovation and development of medical technology products. This close relationship is a positive for patients who are the ultimate beneficiaries of advanced medical technology. However, this close relationship does require a clear understanding of ethical behaviours by both parties.

In particular when exhibiting at a MTANZ organised conference, clause 5.10 'Gifts to Healthcare Professionals' must be adhered to. This clause states the following:

- A company should ensure that sales of Medical Technology are made solely on the basis of efficacy, safety, quality, price and service and never on the basis of a Healthcare Professional receiving payments, gifts or Hospitality.
- Companies may not:
 - o provide Healthcare Professionals any type of branded or non-branded promotional items (e.g. pens, notebooks, tote bags), even if the item is of minimal value and related to the Healthcare Professional's work or for the benefit of the patients.
 - o provide Healthcare Professionals with gifts, including gifts of cash, food, wine or spirits, gift baskets, gift cards/certificates or flowers.
 - o accept a gift from a Healthcare Professional which is beyond the level of what is reasonable and customary in the circumstances of the relationship.
- A company may:
 - o occasionally provide a Healthcare Professional with an educational item that benefits patients or serves agenuine educational function for the Healthcare Professional provided the item has a fair market value of less than $100, except in the case of medical textbooks or anatomical models.
- For the avoidance of doubt, this clause does not preclude the legitimate practice of providing to Healthcare Professionals appropriate samples of Medical Technologies for genuine training, educational or Medical Technology evaluation purposes (generally in a clinical setting).
